Dear Sir, Madam,

This application is regarding a full or part time position to work as a software developer in our growing internet company.

We own a number of successful websites and work as web traffic and marketing consultants and also sell a number of digital products in various online marketplaces.

Tim Buchalka has 25 years experience as a software programmer and Anthony Buchalka has 6 years experience in online marketing and has a degree in Education.

Job description

We develop a diverse range of applications, from standalone php scripts, WordPress plugins, desktop applications and even cross platform applications (MS Silverlight/Adobe Air).

Our development environment consists of Php, Mysql, Html, Javascript, Visual C#, Visual Basic, Visual C++ (as well as the cross platform technologies listed).

If you have demonstrable skills in some of the above environments/technologies/languages, and love to code then please contact us. :)

Our commitment to you

If you were successful in being offered a position, you would be joining an Australian company which is growing rapidly and who are providing long term employment for many people around the world.

We are a friendly and supportive company who value and support our online staff.

We pay all our staff each 2 weeks.

Your generous salary will be negotiated when we get the opportunity to discuss it with you.

Our requirements for our software developer positions include;

- Experience as per the "job description" above
- A university degree (computer related degree preferred but not an absolute requirement).
- A working command of written English.
- Willingness and ability to learn new tasks.
- Motivation and a willingness to provide high a standard of work.
- Comfortable working on line on your own computer in your own location.
- Provide a daily email report of your work and be contactable on Skype.
